EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Product and platform leader with 20+ years building coherent experiences across complex, fragmented enterprise ecosystems — at Atlassian (78M+ MAU), eBay ($1B+ marketplace), Yahoo! (50M+ MAU), and Condé Nast. Two years of daily practice building and deploying The Human-AI Loop, a complete human-AI collaboration methodology (thehumanailoop.com) with a live working simulation. A consistent record of leading through ambiguity, earning trust across functions, and translating between domain experts and engineering to ship complex, high-stakes products. Recognized externally as an “AI-native product leader” by a former VP at eBay and Atlassian — unprompted, based on published output and observed practice. Player-coach who leads teams while staying hands-on.

CORE EXPERTISE

- AI Strategy & Transformation: Human-AI Loop methodology, enterprise AI adoption, agentic system design, AI governance & guardrails, responsible-AI frameworks
- Product & Platform Leadership: 0 → 1 product development, platform architecture, enterprise rollout & GTM, experimentation culture, build-vs-buy evaluation
- Domain-Expert & Stakeholder Translation: turning ambiguous expert input (incl. legal & compliance) into requirements and acceptance criteria; C-suite partnership; translating complex AI/LLM concepts for non-technical audiences
- People & Culture Leadership: 15 direct reports across 3 countries, cross-functional alignment, leading through ambiguity, empathy-first management

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

- ### The Human-AI Loop

2024 — Present

Founder · AI Methodology & Product Development

Austin, TX

 - Built and deployed a complete AI collaboration methodology — Test → Build → Codify → Share — with playbooks, prompt architectures, evaluation routines, and governance models publicly available at thehumanailoop.com
 - Built try.thehumanailoop.com — a live 5-minute simulation; users experience the contrast between default and collaborative AI use and receive three working artifacts, no signup required
 - Published thought leadership adopted by practitioners: “Rebuilding the Cockpit vs. Flying the Plane,” “Collaborative Engineering vs. Prompt Engineering,” “Not All AI Should Be Your Teammate” — frameworks for integrating AI without losing human judgment
 - Building AI-powered products — Daily Fuel (mobile-first personalized nutrition, deployed and in usability testing) and a growing suite of collaboration and team-dynamics prototypes
 - Operates a documented human-AI Triad (Claude + ChatGPT as teammates with distinct, complementary roles) — a replicable model for team AI adoption
 - Recognized externally as an “AI-native product leader” by a former VP at eBay and Atlassian — unprompted, based on published output and observed practice
- ### Atlassian

2018 — 2023

Head of Product (Sr. Group PM) · Community & Self-Help

Austin, TX (Hybrid; Remote from 2020)

 - Led product for community engagement and self-help platforms serving 78M+ MAU — onboarding flows, self-service tooling, and experimentation frameworks that drove a 7x retention lift through cross-team standards and shared-system thinking
 - Partnered with ML engineering to build the recommendation system for the community feed; designed AI/ML integration strategy — sentiment analysis, proactive recommendations, personalized guidance — with evaluation routines and governance frameworks
 - Established experimentation culture (A/B, multivariate, funnel testing) embedded across teams; scaled the product org from 1 → 2 scrum teams; mentored PMs who advanced into senior leadership roles
 - Led cross-functional teams across engineering, design, data science, and SEO delivering platform-level solutions globally
 - Described by engineering partners as having “a rare ability to distill complex stakeholder needs into clear, high-impact product ideas” through active listening and cross-functional alliance building

MKR Consulting

2015 – 2018

Founder & Principal · Product Consulting

New York, NY

- Owned the full client engagement lifecycle for female-founded startups, discovery through launch and sustained adoption — 100% of clients secured initial funding, 50% accepted into competitive accelerators, one closed a multi-million-dollar seed round
- Translated complex product challenges into clear executive-level recommendations; specialized in enabling clients to operate independently after engagement — built for transfer, not dependency

Condé Nast

2010 – 2015

Digital Managing Director (GM) · Lucky Magazine

New York, NY

- Recruited to lead digital transformation for a legacy print brand; drove innovation autonomously — secured corporate budget for the local team, hired dedicated developers, and launched pilot programs while leadership deliberated
- Piloted Condé Nast's first affiliate commerce program, first community platform, and an interactive iPad app — each ahead of the broader organization's readiness; corporate later validated these instincts by creating central teams for affiliate, community, and interactive experiences
- Launched Lucky Contributors, winning MIN's Best Community awards (2013, 2014); grew digital presence to 2M+ monthly uniques with 4x social growth
- Navigated complex stakeholder alignment across editorial, tech, merchandising, and ad sales to deliver integrated content, commerce, and community experiences

Yahoo!

2005 – 2010

Director of Product Management · Lifestyles & Social Network

Media Business Unit / Entertainment · Sunnyvale & Santa Monica, CA

- Pioneered Yahoo!'s shift from aggregation to original editorial content for a high-value audience (women 25–45), with revenue performance validating the model
- Built Yahoo!'s first community-led UGC platform from concept to launch (0 → 1) — scaled to 14M users, $40M revenue year one, and 50M+ MAU across lifestyle communities
- Led a global PM team of 15 direct reports across Taiwan, Hong Kong, and the US — building trust across three cultures where teams disagree differently, build consensus differently, and need different kinds of context
- Partnered with Condé Nast and Hearst to launch multimillion-dollar native advertising programs balancing content quality with partner requirements
- Protected editorial integrity under commercial pressure — advocated for creators and preserved platform trust when leadership sought to suppress content

eBay

2004 – 2005

Sr. Global Product Manager

San Jose, CA

- Led the cross-functional team launching Best Offer, eBay's first price-negotiation platform (0 → 1) — powered $1B+ in transactions year one; designed recommendation and pricing algorithms improving seller conversions by 4.7%
- Designed for behavior change — studied how buyers and sellers feel about negotiation to build a product that changed marketplace dynamics
- Recognized with multiple Global Product Management Awards (2005) for innovation and cross-functional leadership

BrassRing (Kenexa / IBM)

2000 – 2004

Sr. Global Product Manager

Santa Clara, CA

- Built an award-winning job-seeker platform earning WEDDLE's Users' Choice Awards (2001, 2002); delivered scalable SaaS recruiting with operational workflows for candidate management and ATS integration
